The Funeral

Today I went to my male family member - dad uncle grandpa etc 's funeral. It was held outside of random place - walmart - the zoo etc and there were Number people there, including his favorite pet Animal.

Everyone wore color but I wanted to be different, so I wore a Adjective floral single piece of clothing with a color single piece of clothing and my color plural clothing, I wanted it to be extra Adjective. We all gathered around his Noun. I couldn't believe how Adjective he looked just verb plus ING there in his color suit with a slight smile on his single body part. A tear fell from my single body part as the priest verb plus ED in and began.

Priest: " We are gathered here to say greeting - hello hi howdy goodbye etc to any male name and to commit him into the plural body part of God. In the name of the family member - sister dad grandma etc, and of the family member - sister dad grandma etc, and of the Holy kind of being - goblin monster angel ghost etc. We ask that you verb this man and lead him to your room in house. "

After he was lowered into the ground, people threw Noun - Plural, Noun - Plural and Noun - Plural into his casket. I put a Noun with a note attached that said " You are Adjective. I will or wont always or never forget you! ". The Priest then continued.....

Priest: " Earth to substance of nature - water smoke fire etc, plural outside thing - trees leaves mountains etc to same plural outside thing as last, dust to Noun - Plural. The Lord bless him and verb him, be Adjective unto him and give him food. Amen."

By this point, we were all very emotion. I looked to my left and saw one of his co-workers blowing her single body part on another mans single piece of clothing. His pet same animal used just laid there beside his Noun. It was such a miserable day! We all walked back and shared memories of him. I remember that one holiday he dressed up as a giant Noun. And the day we went verb plus ING and he caught the Adjective - Ends in EST Animal, it was so big that it send him overboard! We laughed for choose one - days weeks years after that! He was a Adjective man. He was my same male family member used!
