Surfing

Surfers represent a diverse culture based on riding the naturally occurring process of ocean waves. Some people practice surfing as a recreational activity while others demonstratedevotion to the sport by making it the central focus of their lives.
The sport has become so popular that surfing now represents a multi-billion dollar industry. Some people make a career out of surfing by Verb ending in ing Adjective Plural noun competing in contests, or marketing and sellingrelated products, such as equipment and clothing. Other surfers separate themselves from any and all commercialism associated with surfing. Thesesurfers, as they are often called, practice the sport purely for personal enjoyment and many even find a deeper meaning through nvolving themselves directly with naturally occurring Noun Plural noun.
