Bobby Kennar

Bobby Kenner is in the 10th grade, and he attends _____^{Noun} high school. His parents were going to go on a trip to _____^{Location} for a week, so they decided to have a short discussion with Bobby. They told him that there would be money for food in the cookie jar if he didnt want the leftovers, the neighbors would be watching over him from time to time, and that he must not have any friends over while his parents were out. Bobbys first thought was Time to _____^{Verb} a PARTAYY, and its going to be so _____^{Adjective}. The next day when Bobbys parents left, he began the _____^{Adjective} process of planning his party by calling people rather than sending out invitations. After that, Bobby took the money from the cookie jar and visited the nearest _____^{Location} to purchase food and decorations. The next day, he decorated the _____^{Name of room} and _____^{Name of room}. Once he was finished with all of that, he went upstairs and got himself ready. About thirty minutes later, Bobbys _____^{Noun(ending in s)} started arriving. During the course of the party, drinks were spilled, a few glass objects were broken, and Mrs.Kenners self portrait was destroyed. After the party had ended, Bobby was too _____^{Adjective} to clean up the _____^{Adjective} mess, so he just went to bed with three days left until his parents would come home. The next day when he awoke around noon, he heard noises coming from downstairs. He had thought that everyone had gone home last night, but he went down to go check anyways. To his amazement, his mother and father were both sitting in the _____^{Name of room}. They had come home early. Bobby explained everything to them and was punished with being grounded for _____^{Number} months.
