- If you Verb your puppy a Adjective dog food, Verb dry food. It will keep his stools more Adjective.

- Confine your puppy to rooms with Plural noun or other washable flooring so mistakes don't Verb carpets.

- Keep your puppy on a schedule. Verb him at the same time every day, and try to get up and go to bed close to the same time every day while he's being potty trained.

- Puppies need lots of Plural noun especially if they eat dry dog food. However, while you're potty training, feed your pup at least four hours before bedtime, and remove his Plural noun two hours before bedtime.

Take your puppy to _____^{Verb}_____ after every _____^{Noun}_____ as well as the first thing in the morning, the last thing at night, every time he wakes up from a _____^{Noun}_____ after an _____^{Adjective}_____ play session, and in the wee hours of the morning if you hear him moving around. Take him on a leash to the place you want him to use that will teach him to use that spot, and also teach him that he can go even on leash with you standing right there. That can be important if you're away from home.

- When you take your puppy to potty, don't play with him until after he does his business. If he doesn't go within 10 minutes, put him in his crate for 10 to 15 minutes, then take him to potty again. When he potties, praise him and reward him with a treat or short playtime. Wait a few minutes before you take him in sometimes puppies don't finish on the first try, so give him time to be sure he won't have to go again in three minutes.

- Keep your puppy's potty place clean pick up feces every day. You don't like to step in it, and neither does he.

- If you don't have the time or patience to potty train a puppy, then adopt or buy an older puppy or adult dog that is already potty trained.
