The

people of Savall believe in only one god, Famous person. Our people loved him so much that they named the city after him. Their main temple was ten stories tall. Five stories helped create a giant, hallow statue of Savall. The king was given the privilege to live in the statues head. This was thought to give the king his ideas to improve the city. The guards lived in Savalls statues arm. This was thought to give them strength. Prisoners were put in the three stories below the mighty statues feet. The people have made a totem pole in the middle of the trading center. They guard the city from cheats. This totem pole shows the seven siblings of Savall.

Same famous person grate pets Gingeraa (pet of peace) and Mavearre (pet of war) have to monorous statues guard the main gate to the city. They guard the city from evil men and women. There were three other temples found a round the city.

This temple was also one of our peoples grate artworks. Some other grate artworks of the city of Savall were the beautiful pots of gold and silver. Some other grate art is the monstros mural on the side of one the citys temples that shows the great king Scoatta (ruled 2340 B.C. 2300 B.C.) on a city wall. This mural was painted 2299 B.C. by Ejo Asca.

The Savalleans were also very scientific minded. They made things like the elevator, slaves pulled on ropes to lift a small platform. This was found in the great temple. They also made pots and pans, a sling shot type cannon, a type of pluming, an arena, and a boat that can go up and stream. To do the pluming the Savalleans dug grate tunnels but stopped 1 inch away went to the very back of the tunnel and fired a cannon ball at the very thin wall.

cannon ball would break though the wall and water would stream in.

As you can see Savall has every thing you can think of and even the great god Savall would say it is a great place to live!
