

Testing

1. Noun
2. Adjective
3. Plural Noun
4. Animal

Testing

=20

We are too. We are also Noun that some students have in the past not thou= ght that developing as much proficiency as possible was a goal. IOW Some h= ave been saying that they do not put effort into developing their oral Fren= ch since it has not been specifically tested in Adjective level classes where g= rades are based mostly on writing.

>; We're thinking that these types of conversations require Plural noun than the >; traditional advisement sessions that they have with the department

>; members prior to class registration. This quarter, we're offering for th= e first

>; time a one credit OPI workshop (which will be able to be repeated for cre= dit,

>; as well) to focus specifically on explaining oral proficiency requirement= s and

>; targeting practice activities for Animal Low proficiency. The members = of

>; the department who have some OPI training have been gracious about pre-

>; testing the workshop students to provide some feedback on specific areas

>; on which we can focus.

=20

We are looking into options for developing similar 1 cr. courses. Our origi= nal idea was to do this for students who fail to achieve an acceptable OPI =

.