Going to the mall

day, my           Noun           and I           Verb           to the           Noun          . We decided it would be fun to take Plural noun           in the booth. I then ended up giving birth to a           Noun          . I named it           Body part           hole . Who knew babies were so           Adjective          ? I love           Noun          .           Verb ending in ing           is also fun.
          Greeting          .
