life

my life as a           Noun           has been rough, however at the age of           Number           and having           Noun           for the           Adjective           time actually made every thing           Adverb - Comparative          . In fact I have a whole new           Noun           looking at this           Adjective                     Adjective                     Noun           i live in, and I           Verb - Non 3rd Person Singular Present           every piece of it. especially the           Adjective                     Noun - Plural           i           Noun           and who have been there for me since day           Number          .
