The Unicorn and His Horn

Once upon a time, in a magical land there lived a _____<sup>Adjective</sup>_____ young unicorn. His name was Fredrick. He was very, very proud of his horn. He had just started to grow it, and it came out all curly in a _____<sup>Shape</sup>_____ shape. He rode around town on a _____<sup>Adjective</sup>_____ carpet that he rented from _____<sup>Disney character</sup>_____. The carpet was covered with pink and purple bumble bees. He was known for his horn, and every other unicorn was jealous of it. All of their horns were strait and _____<sup>Color</sup>_____. BORING!!!!

One day he was riding on his carpet, and a giant, (the giant from Jack and The Bean Stock) came up out of nowhere and grabbed his horn right off of his head! He only caught a glimpse of the big, ugly, mean monster of a giant. The giant whose name was _____<sup>First name</sup>_____ was huge, fat, green, and warty. The giant turned to run away, but since Fredrick's carpet was magic, he pressed a secret button that wasn't so secret because it was in the _____<sup>Open</sup>_____. That button shot ropes out from the bottom of the carpet. The ropes tangled up the giant, and sent him sprawling on the rough concrete. Then the unicorn put a little sleeping pill in _____<sup>Same first name</sup>_____ mouth, and _____<sup>Same first name</sup>_____ fell asleep. Fredrick stole the horn off of _____<sup>Same first name</sup>_____ head, and put it back on his own. When Fredrick turned around he saw that a huge _____<sup>Noun</sup>_____ had formed, and when they saw that he had gotten his horn back, they all _____<sup>Past tense verb</sup>_____ up and cheered. They all lived happily ever after (until _____<sup>Same first name</sup>_____ returned).
