My first Recital

Last night played in my first recital. Ever. My were shaking and I felt chills going up and down my I was a little nervous said, " Just relax! You'll do fine." Then she made me for for hours before the recital , just to make sure I would be fine. After supper, I went upstairs and put on my recitalarticle of clothing then I put on my good luck, just in case. But Mom threw a fit when she saw pronoun preposition my good luck article of clothing, because they are bright with polka dots. She said they didn't match my recital article of clothing I thought they looked But there was no getting around it. I had to take them off and put on Adjective socks. However, there were Number Noun - Plural in my recital article of clothing big enough for a Noun So, I stuffed my Adjective Noun - Plural into my pockets, put my article of clothing on, verb - Past Tense my teeth, and went downstairs.
Proper Noun had my tuba ready for me. I hoped my Proper Noun - Plural wouldn't fall off during the recital. They were kind of nervous, too.
Preposition the recital, Mom told Pronoun I was fine. She was holding my Adjective Proper Noun - Plural, which had fallen out of my pocket while I was playing. At the time, I had no clue why the audience was, but when I saw them on the floor while I was Present ends in ING , I thought I had a pretty good guess. Oh well. Mom says next year's recital I'll blow everyone else's Noun - Plural off instead of my own. I put my Adjective Noun - Plural back in my drawer,

ready to wear	Preposition	_ my math test tomorrow.
The end.
