The Miracle at Naples-David Grimm

FRANCESCINA (Praying): Holy Proper Noun, please make this Noun make sense. (To Bertolino): Don Bertolino, I will not have you Verb this terrible dark day. Sure, but I've cooked four Noun - Plural of Noun for the Noun that was to be, and now they will be Verb - Past Participle. But if the Saint wills our Noun by Verb - Present Tense us his Noun, I won't stand by to Verb you make a Adjective of him. There'll be no Noun tonight! Nor any night until his Adjective Noun runs warm! And if you Verb - Non 3rd Person Singular Present, in the name of Santa Patrizia, I will Verb myself of Viceroy Don Pedro himself and beg that you be Verb - Past Participle the Noun for life! (Calling): Flaminia! (to herself); The Noun I turn my back--!

BERTOLINO (hurling rope to the floor which he has retrieved from the cavarano's axle): There! Verb - Present Tense me up! Make a Noun and Verb me! You're Verb - Present Tense me, Francescina! What have I ever done to you? So I called you Ratface; that was years ago! I'm an Adjective man getting older trying to Verb his family. That's what they are, my Noun - Plural, they're family and they need to Verb. Look at these Verb - Present Tense bones! You want me to Verb?! I'll Verb; here in the dirt like a Noun!
