Alyssa's Crazy Day

Once upon a time there was a beautiful girl named Alyssa. She had blonde hair, blue eyes, and was a joy to all who knew her. One day, Alyssa was walking through a fairy _____ Noun _____. She had just crossed the sunflower _____ Noun _____ when a mean _____ Noun _____ jumped out! The _____ Noun _____ shouted, "This _____ Noun _____ is only to be crossed by little girls with straight hair!". This was a big problem indeed for Alyssa because she had curly hair. She asked the troll, "please Mr. Troll, may I just cross this one time? I'm on my way to visit Tinkerbell?". The troll shouted, "NO! No one with curly hair may cross!" This was a huge problem! So _____ Noun _____ turned around and ran all the way back through the _____ Noun _____, into her _____ Noun _____, up the _____ Noun _____, and straight to her _____ Noun _____ for her flat iron. She spent the next 3 hours straightening her _____ Noun _____ with a _____ Noun _____ _____ Noun _____ then began making her way through the _____ Noun _____ again. "Whew!", she thought, "at least now I can get across the bridge!" Suddenly, the wind began to blow and _____ Noun _____ appeared overhead. "Oh no!", thought Alyssa, "It's going to rain!". Sure enough, the rain began to pour just moments later and Alyssa's _____ Noun _____ instantly curled up into crazy, corkscrew curls. Alyssa arrived at the bridge where, once again, the troll jumped out shouting, "This _____ Noun _____ is only to be crossed by little _____ Noun _____ with straight hair!". Alyssa begged and pleaded with the troll but to no avail, he would not let her cross. Just as she began to turn around and head back home, she saw a tiny light in the distance. The light grew larger and brighter as it drew near, and soon she realized it was Tinkerbell! "Mr. _____ Noun _____!" Tinkerbell shouted, "I've had enough of you and your silly rules about curly _____ Noun _____. Get over yourself!" and with that she sprinkled fairy dust on his _____ Noun _____ and he began to sneeze. He sneezed, and sneezed, and sneezed until he fell right off the bridge and into the water below. Alyssa gleefully crossed the bridge and followed Tinkerbell to her _____ Noun for tea and crumpets. The end.
