

The tragedy

1. Noun - Plural
2. Proper Noun
3. Adjective
4. Proper Noun
5. Proper Noun
6. Noun - Plural
7. Noun - Plural
8. Noun - Plural
9. Adjective
10. Determiner
11. Pronoun
12. Noun
13. Noun
14. Verb
15. Noun - Plural
16. Verb - Present Tense

The tragedy

Once upon a time many Noun - Plural ago in the city of Proper Noun, there was a Adjective boy. His name was Proper Noun. Proper Noun was a very strange boy, because he was completely obsessed with Noun - Plural. He always took his favorite Noun - Plural with him wherever he went, and he had a massive collection of Noun - Plural at home. All the other boys and girls didn't like Bob because they were scared of scissors. This, of course, made Bob very Adjective.

One day, when Bob was Determiner down the road, he came across a hairy zebra. "Pronoun an interesting creature," thought Bob. "I think I'll take it home with me and make it my pet." Bob captured the zebra with his Noun, and proceeded to drag it home. When they got back, Bob said to the zebra, "This is your new home. Soon I'll make you a bed out of Noun where you can Verb. I hope you like it here!" But when the zebra saw all of the Noun - Plural, it was startled and started Verb - Present Tense all over the place. It kicked on the table, it kicked under the bed, and it kicked in the closet. Bob called to get help, but it was too late. The zebra kept on kicking until the whole house was destroyed, and then ran off into the forest. But the worst part of it all was that it ate all of Bob's scissors.