My painting!

My senior year, I was in _____^{Noun} class. I did many paintings in that class but one painting that I remember most is the _____^{Adjective} painting that I did. It was one of the most fun piece to do too. I remember not knowing what exactly to do and just throwing whatever colors together. Later I came to know that's what I was supposed to do. When I was _____^{Adverb} done, I was very surprised to know that my teacher actually liked my painting. She even asked me to sell my painting to her. I was so happy and excited about the fact that I sold my first painting.
