Adventure!

As I start to write this _____, I am currently _____ over the arctic circle. I'm half way to South Korea. There is an amazing _____ blend of _____ of all walks of life surrounding me. Some of them are _____ young girls offering the travelers coffee and drink and _____ the meals included with the flight. There is a _____ old couple beside me who do not speak hardly any _____ but love to _____ and communicate with me with hand gestures and niceties. And there are many varieties of Americans. Some are _____ going on an _____ vacations with fussy _____ trying there best to stay calm and quiet on the plane. Some are _____ visitors to Korea returning to work after a visit home, but most are like myself with little experience traveling by _____ to the other side of the world for the first time to teach. I am at least grateful that I know what will be coming with teaching....I sense that many of them do not.
