Give Me Liberty Or Give Me Death!

MR. First Name of a Person: No man thinks more highly than I do of the patriotism, as well as abilities, of the very worthy Animal (plural) who have just addressed the Noun. But different men often see the same subject in different lights; and, therefore, I hope it will not be thought disrespectful to those Animal (plural) if, entertaining as I do, opinions of a character very opposite to theirs, I shall speak forth my sentiments freely, and without reserve. This is no time for ceremony. The question before the House is one of awful moment to this country. For my own part, I consider it as nothing less than a question of freedom or slavery; and in proportion to the magnitude of the subject ought to be the freedom of the debate. It is only in this way that we can hope to arrive at truth, and fulfil the great responsibility which we hold to Animal and our Noun. Should I keep back my opinions at such a time, through fear of giving offence, I should consider myself as guilty of treason towards my country, and of an act of disloyalty toward the majesty of Noun, which I revere above all earthly Animal (plural).
