Give Me Liberty Or Give Me Death

I have but one lamp by which my _____ Noun are guided; and that is the _____ Noun of experience. I know of no way of judging of the future but by the past. And judging by the past, I wish to know what there has been in the conduct of the British ministry for the last _____ Number years, to justify those hopes with which _____ Noun - Plural have been pleased to solace themselves, and the House? Is it that _____ Adjective smile with which our petition has been lately received? Trust it not, sir; it will prove a snare to your feet. Suffer not yourselves to be _____ Verb - Past Tense with a kiss. Ask yourselves how this _____ Adjective reception of our petition comports with these war-like preparations which cover our waters and darken our land. Are fleets and armies necessary to a work of love and reconciliation? Have we shown ourselves so unwilling to be reconciled, that force must be called in to win back our love? Let us not deceive ourselves, sir. These are the implements of war and subjugation; the last arguments to which kings resort. I ask, _____ Noun - Plural, sir, what means this martial array, if its purpose be not to force us to submission? Can _____ Noun - Plural assign any other possible motive for it? Has Great Britain any enemy, in this quarter of the world, to call for all this _____ Noun - Plural of navies and _____ Noun - Plural? No, sir, she has none. They are meant for us; they can be meant for no other. They are sent over to bind and rivet upon us those _____ Noun - Plural which the British ministry have been so long forging. And what have we to oppose to them? Shall we try argument? Sir, we have been trying that for the last _____ Number years. Have we anything new to offer upon the subject? Nothing. We have held the subject up in every light of which it is capable; but it has been all in vain. Shall we resort to entreaty and humble supplication? What terms shall we find which have not been already _____ Verb - Past Tense? Let us not, I beseech you, sir, deceive ourselves.
