It was not in my power to at Fredericksburg according to the invitation in your letter, and in that of mr. Ogilvie. The of the weather, the business of the farm, to which I have made myself necessary, forbade it; and to give one reason for all, mature sanus, I have laid up my Rosinante in his stall, before his unfitness for the shall expose him faultering to the world.
But why did not I answer you in time? Because, in, I am, I am myself to grow lazy, and I was sure you would ascribe the delay to anything sooner than a want of affection or respect to you, for this was not among the possible causes. In, if anything could ever induce me to another night out of my own house, it would have been your invitation and my sollicitude for the subject of it, the education of our youth. I do most anxiously wish to see the highest degrees of education given to the degrees of genius, and to all degrees of it, so much as may enable them
