Snowmobiling:)

In the summer of 2004 I went with my cousin Maddy out to our grandparent's We were going to see what they had gotten us for Christmas. We drove along the winding roads out to the farm.
Maddy and I got our own snowmobile, that we had to share. It was green and black. My Uncle, Maddy, and I got dressed in our snow gear and hopped on the snowmobiles and tore out of the driveway.
We rode out to my grandpa's plowed cornfield, we covered the cornfield in winding tracks. We wereover the big and tiny snow mounds. When it was my turn to drive I was kind of shaky ,but I did ok. At first the snowmobile jerk back and forth but I got it under control. For the rest of that evening all of us were into this gloomy dense forest. Maddy was scared and did not want to come. We rode into the dark woods. It was so fun over the path leaving are winding tracks behind. We we finished riding we went back to the farm. The house was warm and smelled delicious. My grandma had made her homemade enormous double decker chip cookies. She placed the of cookie in front of us. We ate our snack, and went back to riding. Until my uncle crashed! It was an awsome day till the trip to the emergency room.
