The Zip-Line and I

The _____ Preposition or subordinating conjunction vacation of 2009 was an interesting one! One of the most memorable memories of that amazing vacation was when we went to "Noah's Ark Waterpark". Which is in the "Dell's"[Wisconsin Dells] and is the biggest waterpark in the _____ Proper Noun! I went there with [most] of my family members from my dad's side of the family. We all sat by the "_____ Noun" area which by the way was really _____ Adjective, it had tons of _____ Noun - Plural and water guns and other _____ Adjective stuff for _____ Noun - Plural to "play" with. Also by that area was a zip-line [and some other waterslides]. It was over a big sparkly _____ Adjective _____ Noun and there was a really long line of people waiting to go on it. For some odd reason I decided to "try" it out of my own curiosity. So I went up to the line and waited for about _____ Number minutes. Finally it was my turn to go up and go on the zip-line! I looked at it for a bit and started getting super nervous. I then regretted ever getting into the line for the zip-line. I _____ Adverb wanted to get out of the line. I stood there for a couple minutes and then a _____ Noun behind me told me that it was not "_____ Adjective" at all and that I would be perfectly fine, but of course I still was super nervous. So then I left the line feeling like a complete _____ Noun!
