The girl that loved tv and food

There once was a _____ Noun _____ who owned her own show about food. It was the Macy's _____ Preposition or subordinating conjunction _____ parade and she was teaching _____ Proper Noun _____ how to make a _____ Adjective _____, quick and easy meal. She was working with _____ Number _____ other people and they were making some potatoes with garlic and _____ Adjective _____ Noun _____. She tasted a bite and thought it was so good, so she kept eating it.
Looking at the _____ Noun _____, and eating. She would put the spoon back in the bowl, get another scoop, eat it, look at the camera, _____ Verb _____, and put the spoon back in the _____ Noun _____. Then she got caught. She got fired for food poisoning and later she owned another show called "little mistakes make a big difference."
