Letter to the Teacher

Dear Ms. First Name of a Person,

You are one of the best teachers in the world! You are Adjective, you always hand out lollipops to the good kids, and you are very forgiving. For all these reasons, I would like to ask that you say that I am a very Adjective student at parent-teacher conference week. I know I got a/an letter on my math test recently, but I can promise that on my next science test I'll work really hard to get a/an letter. Plus I will scrape the food or something you can chew off of everybody's desks. Just please consider it!

Love,

Your student,
