Memily Mad Lib

There once was a Noun named Madison. Madison was a polyanderist. Madison had a friend named Emily. was a polyanderist (or however you spell that), too. They both had at least Number Noun - Plural . All their husbands were Adjective and Adjective .

One Christmas, Madison was Particle on bacon. Suddenly, Emily came Preposition or subordinating conjunction and said 'Madison, the Noun - Plural got into the house!' Penguins are liars. Madison grabbed Noun and Emily grabbed a whip and they tried to shoo them out. Then, the Adjective - Superlative little penguins said Adjective , stop. I don't like you, you're all idiots.' This made Emily and Madison Adjective . They then got out a Noun and whipped the smart penguin who went Verb -

 Present Tense away, even though penguins can't fly.
