Invader Zim

Invader Zim is an American animated television series created by First name of celebrity funny word.

It was produced by and subsequently premiered on TV channel. The series is about an extraterrestrial named Zim from the planet Planet, and his ongoing Noun to conquer and destroy Planet. His various attempts to subjugate and destroy the Noun race are invariably undermined by some combination of his own ineptitude, his malfunctioning Noun servant funny word, and Noun investigator Dib, one of very few humans attentive enough to be aware of Zim's identity.

Invader Zim was first broadcast on Month Number, Four digit number and was targeted at Noun - Plural in their early teens, and met with critical acclaim, but after the Number season, the show's ratings began to suffer. Before the second season was completed, TV channel canceled the series, leaving at least Number episodes and a planned television movie series finale Verb - Past Tense.

The show has maintained a cult following since cancellation with a pilot episode, Number canon episodes, and at least Number Noun - Plural that were in production at the time of the series' cancellation. On August 19, 2006, all 46 canon episodes have aired on television and been released on Noun. 19 of the episodes are split into two individual stories, each lasting about 12 minutes. There are 8 double-length episodes. All episodes were directed by First name of celebrity Ressel except for the pilot which was directed by First name of celebrity Reichek.
