

rebecca

1. Proper Noun
2. Adjective
3. Verb - Past Tense
4. Verb - Past Tense
5. Verb - Past Tense
6. Adjective
7. Verb - Past Tense
8. Verb - Past Tense
9. Verb - Past Tense
10. Verb - Past Tense
11. Verb - Past Tense
12. Verb - Past Tense
13. Verb - Past Tense

rebecca

Rebecca Wein Proper Noun 5th

Class 8B Mrs. Shreier

Governor Mitt Romney and President Obama are both very different people. They believe in different things, making Governor Mitt Romney a republican and President Obama a democrat. If I could Adjective, who would I chose? Well it is simple I would chose Verb - Past Tense Mitt Romney for Verb - Past Tense three reasons; Obama is not doing as good as a job as we all expected, and it is time for a Verb - Past Tense party to be president and make a difference. Another Adjective is that Governor Mitt Romney will be Verb - Past Tense for the economy. The last reason is that I believe Governor Mitt Romney favors Israel more than Obama, and we need Verb - Past Tense President who will do better things for Israel and make it a safer place.

Since President Obama Verb - Past Tense not doing as good of a job as we all expected, it is time for a different party to be President. President Obama has not kept some of his promises like: "In 10 years, we will finally end our dependence on oil from the Middle East." "In June 2012, the Wall Verb - Past Tense Journal reported that the U.S. is on track, Verb - Past Tense to energy analysts, to end its Verb - Past Tense on Middle East oil, but not until 2035". (From: cbsnews.com). Another promise that was broken: "If you have health care, my plan will lower your premiums." So far, premiums for those who already have health insurance have gone up during Mr. Obama's presidency." (From: cbsnews.com). Verb - Past Tense Obama has not been doing a good job because he hasn't kept a lot of his promises.

Governor

Mitt Romney will be better for the economy because since President Obama has been president the number of unemployment has gone down by 8% the lowest it has ever been.