Hehe Eulogy

I would like to thank you for being here to honor my Uncle, and to support his Noun . I know it would please Pronoun that you have come to say one last Noun to a dear Noun and family member. On my way here Monday morning I was struck by the Noun of the Noun . The streets were Adjective and there were big Adjective Noun - Plural falling catching the lights. It was the type of morning my Uncle George would have enjoyed. He had a good eye for the Adjective and would have internalized the feeling of Noun . I believe that the outdoors offered him a place of peace and the chance to discover something new. It was these beliefs that lead him to experience many Noun - Plural Plural across North America over the years. One of my Mom's favourite stories was when he rented a canoe in Algonquin Park and hitch Verb - Past Tense over 12 miles with it. He was a man who enjoyed the challenge of a seemingly impossible adventure.

Nature is a common theme in my Uncle's life. He combined his artistic talents with that of his love for the outdoors and started a small photography company called Perfect Prints. There are a few pieces of my Uncle's photography here. These pieces provide a small Noun into his inner soul. In nature, and in his photography, he found his place to give Noun - Plural to God for his gifts. In faith he was a quiet man. Let me use the word of God, who is more capable than I at describing my Uncle's faith. 1 Peter 3:4 let your adorning be the hidden person of the heart with the imperishable beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit, which in God's sight is very precious.

He

found that his _____^{to}_____ was to give to those who others had forgotten, reminding them that they to were important to someone.

He knew he was fortunate in life and was more than willing to share his possessions. Very often giving his _____^{Noun - Plural}_____, _____^{Noun - Plural}_____ and _____^{Noun - Plural}_____ to those in need. He was one of those few people who would willingly give the _____^{Noun}_____ off his back to help someone less fortunate. And the only one I know to have actually given the _____^{Noun}_____ off their _____^{Noun}_____.

Amazing Grace is a beautiful song about the trial of man. It was his favourite hymn and I believe it spoke to his understanding of the downtrodden, and the hope that lies with God.

Perhaps that is why he loved the _____^{Adjective - Superlative}_____ the best, as it too has two stories to tell; The beauty of the petals and the defense of the thorns.

While we are experiencing the _____^{Noun}_____ of life; pain and hopelessness, this is not how Uncle George would want us to say farewell. He would want us to look to the new beginning of hope that will come, and rather than mourn, celebrate his life and the memories that he has left us with.

To

you my dear uncle I say Go with God. (Rose)
