

Snowy Days

1. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
2. Number
3. Number
4. Proper Noun
5. Adjective
6. Noun - Plural
7. Proper Noun
8. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
9. Verb - Present Ends In S
10. Adjective
11. Adjective

Snowy Days

We are currently in the week of Snowy Days. A week where many dress up in _____ Verb - Present ends in ING outfits to match the days of dress up. But this year, our pride, in the days of dress up, has gone down. Not _____ Number people, but _____ Number people have only been dressing up. _____ Proper Noun, as student council, just don't know what to do. We try and try and try, to think of _____ Adjective days of dress up, but nobody, not even the _____ Noun - Plural like them! That is why people should speak up! But, on the bright side, _____ Proper Noun and I are going _____ Verb - Present ends in ING tonight for _____ Verb - Present ends in S, because we have a Snowy Days dance on Saturday night! That is, if we don't get snowed in from the big storm coming our way. Maybe next year we'll get more _____ Adjective. Hopefully, everyone can make it to the dance! I heard everyone likes to jump up and down, and sing and _____ Adjective! Sounds perfect for me. I just hope Snowy Days will turn out better next time around!