Mamphela Ramphele

Fellow Proper Noun African citizens, I am here today to Verb you to join me on a journey to build the country of our dreams. I ask those of you of my generation: let us cast our minds back to the run up to 1994 and the moments immediately following the dawn of our freedom. Do you Verb our patience and quiet dignity as we waited in long queues to cast our very first votes as citizens of a free South Proper Noun? Do you remember how you choked with emotion and had goose bumps as you made your very first cross on the ballot? Do you remember the tears of joy and relief when we watched our first President, Rolihlahla Mandela, being honoured with a fly-past by the air-force that was to have its first democratically elected Noun in chief? Do you remember how Madiba inspired us to action in these words of his inaugural address?
