A Sight in Camp

A SIGHT in camp in the day-break Color and Adjective ,
As from my tent I emerge so early, sleepless,
As slow I walk in the cool
tent,
Three forms I see on stretchers lying, brought out there, untended lying,
Over each the blanket spread, ample Color woollen blanket,
and heavy blanket, folding, covering all.
Adjective, I halt, and silent stand;
Then with light fingers I from the face of the nearest, the first,
just lift the blanket:
Who are you, elderly man so Adjective and Adjective , with Color hair, and flesh all sunken about the eyes?
Who are you, my dear comrade? 10
Then to the second I stepAnd who are you, my child and darling?

Who are you, ______ boy, with cheeks yet ______ Verb - Present ends in ING ?

Then to the third--a face nor child, nor old, very calm, as of beautiful Color ivory;

Young man, I think I know you--I think this face of yours is the face of the Christ himself;

_____Quality of Life_____, and brother of all, and here again he lies
