Melanie has always loved having a But, in all honestly she wished she had more. Melanie met her oldest younger soon-to-be-sister when was only years old. Melanie and this soon-to-be-sister have a lot in common, they both have brown, love many of the same TV shows, and they shop at all the same stores, like Forever, and Urban But, Melanie wishes that she could eat only and and like her and still be SO athletic. Keep dreaming She basically spends every spare minute playing, and man is she good. Melanie has seen number play many a time, and her talent level is insane. Melanie knows there will be tons of games for her to watch in the future, because, as a junior in high school, she already knows where she's going to play college softball As if that wasn't enough, this girl is super smart too; she's basically the whole package. Even when she's feeling while out for a meal with the family, she does her best to have fun, although she's so sick that as soon as she gets out to the parking lot she throws up immediately.
Even though she's gotten to the age where you can a car you won't see her cruising around, because she's just too busy travelling all over the on trip after trip. Melanie's seen this she is so excited to watch her continue to grow into such a generous wonderful person. No matter what they're doing, whether it's goofing off at home filming a music video, out for some (where they make such a good team because Melanie loves the and this sister loves the rest) they always have a great time. There's sure to be so many more fun times on the journey
