Homework!

Proper Noun never did homework. "Too boring," he said. He Verb - Past Tense Noun and Noun and Proper Noun instead. His teachers Verb - Past Tense him, " Proper Noun !
Do your homework or you won't a thing." And it's true, sometimes he did feel like a
But what could he do? He verb - Past Tense homework.
Then on St. Proper Noun Day his Noun was Verb - Present Tense with a little Noun and he grabbed it away. To his it wasn't a at all, but a man of the Adjective size. He had a little shirt with old fashioned noun - Plural and a high tall Noun much like a witch's. He yelled, " me! Don't give me back to that cat. I'll grant you a , I promise you that."
Proper Noun couldn't believe how Adjective he was! Here was the Noun to all of his problems. So he said, "Only if you do all my 'til the end of the, that's 35
Noun - Plural
The little man's like a dishcloth verb - Past Tense in the hamper. He his legs and doubled his and he grimaced and scowled and his lips, "Oh, am I! But I'll do it."
And true to his word, that little began to do Patrick's homework. Except there was one glitch. The elf didn't always know what to do and he needed help. " me! me! me!" he'd say. And Patrick would have to help in whatever way.

"I don't know this," the elf squeeked while verb - Present ends in ING Patrick's homework. "Get me a No, what's even better. Look up the word and sound it out by each"
When it came to math, Patrick was out of "What are times tables?" the elf verb - Past Tense
. "We elves never need that. And addition andverb - Base Form and division andverb - Base Form?
Here, sit down beside me, you simply must guide me." Elves know nothing of history, to them it's a mystery. So the little elf, already a shouter, just got louder "Go to the, I need books. More and more books. And you can help me verb them too."
As a matter of fact every day in every way that elf was a nag! Patrick was working than ever and was it a drag! He was staying up nights, had never felt so, was going to school with his eyes puffed and Finally the last day of school arrived and the elf was free to go. As for homework, there was no more, so he

Patrick got his A's; his classmates were amazed; his teachers and were full of Noun . And his parents? They wondered what had happened to Patrick. He was now the model kid.
Cleaned his Noun, did his chores, was cheerful, never Adjective, like he had developed a whole new attitude.
You see, in the end Patrick still thought he'd made that tiny man do all his But I'll share a secret, just between you and me. It wasn't the elf; Patrick had verb - Past Tense it himself!
