Out of the office

Now, many of you will undoubtedly tease me for this, but I need to _____ Verb - Base Form _____ Location with my _____ Noun today.

For those of you who are keeping track, today I will drive an inconvenient distance from my home to have my _____ Noun _____ Verb - Past Tense by the _____ Noun. Then, I will _____ Verb - Base Form the _____ Noun with the _____ Noun as well. Depending on the timing, I may need to drive an inconvenient distance a second time for an _____ Noun. I am enthusiastically excited about all of this driving.

Instead of trying to come in "a little late" which would be closer to 10, and then leaving "a little early" which would be closer to 3, I'm just going to call the entire day a wash and take it off.

I will also ideally be stopping by the _____ Noun - Plural to make a final decision between the _____ Noun - Plural and some _____ Noun - Plural. Heck, I may even make a day out of it and look at some boxes of _____ Noun - Plural. Woohoo!
