marriage trouble

One day, a teacher was attempting to teach the names of animals to a class of Noun - Plural. She held up a picture of a Adjective, and asked one boy, "Proper Noun, what is this animal?". Little Proper Noun looked at the picture with a Adjective look on his face and responded, "I'm sorry Mrs. Smith, I don't know.". The teacher was not one to give up easily, so she then asked Proper Noun, "Well, Proper Noun, what does your Mommy call your Daddy?" Little Proper Noun face suddenly brightened up, but then a confused look came over his face, as he asked, "Mrs. Smith, is that really a Noun?"!
