

Usurper of the Throne

1. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
2. Verb - Present Ends In Ing

Usurper of the Throne

(King/Queen 1) (Person in room 1), usurper of the throne, is a (Noun, type of animal) who lives above the sneeze guard. (King/Queen 1) (Person in room 1) became infatuated with the city of (Type of cuisine 1) Buffet when he had to making his own (food of same cuisine) after his mate divorced him. (King/Queen 1) (Person in room 1) wears (Color) sweat bands on _____ Verb - Present ends in ING a (Color) cape fastened at his neck by an (Color) brooch. (His/Her 1) (body part) sometimes hangs off the edge of the sneeze guard. The previous (King/Queen 2) of (Type of cuisine 1) Buffet, (Person in room 2), was a piece of (type of food in buffet 1, singular) with (type of food in buffet 2, plural) for (Body part 1, plural) and (Body part 2, plural), but (King/Queen 1) (Person in room 1) took his crown and ate him. The crown was too small for (His/Her 1) head so (he/she 1) wears it on (His/Her 1) right ring finger.

(King/Queen 1) (Person in room 1) uses a chamber pot because he fears it will be difficult to get back to the top of _____ Verb - Present ends in ING sneeze guard. Soon after eating the first king of (Type of cuisine 1) Buffet, (Person in room 1) made (His/Her 1) daily contribution to the chamber pot. (Person in room 1) exclaimed, "The king of (Type of cuisine 1) Buffet has transformed my chamber pot into a flask of perfume!"

But the citizens of Salad Bar begged to differ. It started with the (type of food in buffet 3, plural) and moved through all the different kinds of (type of food in buffet 4, plural) and finally got to the (type of food in buffet 5, plural), which developed a salad launcher. They launched jalapeos into Salazar's (body part 3), vinaigrette stuffed olives into his (body part 4), and tomatoes into his (body part 4). (Person in room 1) couldn't take the pain any longer and slid down the sneeze guard and hit the floor with a thud.

