

Wedding Party Wackiness

1. Noun
2. Adjective
3. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
4. Verb - Present Ends In Ing

Wedding Party Wackiness

It was the day of the wedding and everybody was getting ready excitedly! Suddenly Brian burst through the door with a (           Noun           ) and shouted (exclamation) at the (           Adjective           ) room. Everyone fell over (           Verb - Present ends in ING           ) - Present ends in ING ending in 'ing')! Shannon couldn't stop (           Verb - Present           ) - Present ends in ING ending in 'ing') into her (Noun), and Gilbert (Verb - Base Form) to the (           Noun           ) and yelled (exclamation) into the big (Noun). Felicia stopped in (Adjective) and nearly (Verb - Base Form ending in 'ed') up her (Noun) all over Gene, who (Verb - Base Form) to the dog Daz and (Verb - Base Form) his whole (Noun) into the trash. Meanwhile Jenn had a bottle of (Noun) and was (Verb - Present ends in ING ending in 'ing') it to the (Adjective) (Noun). Nicole took the bottle and (verb) it over the (Noun) Adverb Megan gasped and began to (Verb - Base Form) under the (Noun) panicking to find the (Adjective) (Noun). They were all (           Verb - Present ends in ING ending in 'ing'           ) like crazy! Donald saw all of this and Adverb yelled (exclamation) (           adjective           ). The whole room (verb ending in 'ed') Marcos (Verb - Base Form) up (Verb - Present ends in ING ending in 'ing') and held a (Noun) in the air. "Are you guys looking for this?" he asked. Everyone in the room (           Verb - Base Form ending in 'ed'           ) a (Noun) of (Adjective) and Brian exclaimed: "Aaron will be very glad to have this!"