Tutu was a ballerina with a pretty frock and dainty little ballet shoes. Wendy, Tutu's owner carried her to all the ballet performances. - Tutu enjoyed the performances very much.

But the other toys were jealous of her. They found that though _____ Noun _____ was dressed like a ballerina she could not really dance. So they started teasing her about it. Tutu was very unhappy. She wanted to be friends with all the other toys. Suddenly, an idea struck her mind. Though the other toys could not go to the ballet she could bring the stories to them! She gathered them all around her and began telling them the story of The Swan Lake.

All the toys listened keenly. Tutu was able to bring the whole performance to life in front of their eyes.
