Back to School

was the last day of summer and I couldn't wait to see all my Adjective friends again
. Most of them I haven't even talked to for the whole months! I gathered my Noun - Plural and placed them neatly in my new bag and brought extra just in case. I wore my new color plural clothing with material type - metal - wool - carpet etc jeans and a button-down single piece of clothing which is the going trend these days, I looked ! When I got to, I saw the " " group looking totally Adjective , hanging out by their transportation plural and transportation plural as usual. Then there are the "dorks of Saint " as they're called because they only hang out together and basically have no Noun-Plural. There is also a group of girls or boys who are always seen sitting by the Noun - Plural and only wear color including same color as last make-up, they never ! The jocks are friendly but they are also and usually stick to throwing Noun - Plural in the air and running up and downplural thing of nature - leaves mountains hills etc The teachers this year are very, Mr word that rhymes with gooner got and is sporting a new " vegetable cut " with his hair which used to be long, past his plural body part . school subject teacher Mrs. Noun got a single body part job which makes her face verb. All-in-all it's going to be a year because I got all my classes, I sit next to my crush who gives me that look with his plural body part where he closes them half-way and then team which is exciting! Hope you have a back-to-school year too!
