A Day at the Museum

We thought our trip to the museum would be boring, but we were wrong. We all wanted to but Mr. Feeny said we had to come here instead. After we handed our to at the door, we were led into the museum's gallery. The first things I noticed were the mummy cases against the Noun . Why were there mummy cases in the gallery?
While we waited for our guide, Mr. Feeny told us how the pharaohs always placed a large in their mummy cases to protect them from intruders. Proper Noun and I got a little Adjective hearing this.
There were, after all, mummy cases in the room with us.
Suddenly we heard a(n) sound coming from inside one of the mummy cases. "Eheu!!"
Proper Noun and I screamed at the same time.
"Nothing to worry about," said Mr. Feeny calmly. "I'm sure it's just the wind." Just then one of the mummy cases open. Out an enormous covered with Noun - Plural Then he started to Just as I was about to run from the room, the noun threw off the noun and howled, " April Fools!" It was Magistra!

We had forgotten that it was April first, but I guess Mr. Feeny and Magistra had not.
