FTEA Meeting

It's bright and early Tuesday morning. Everyone had gathered for the weekly FTEA meeting. Everyone, except theleader, Hailey. When everyone had been waiting for about minutes, Sydney decided to call her. After several repeated attempts to reach Hailey, with every attempt ending in the voicemail, the board decided to search the campus for her. They searched high, and they searched low. They searched under and inside and inside After several hours of searching, the board stumbled upon a ransom note tucked under Hailey's Hailey had been kidnapped! The note read, "Bring boxes of Pop tarts, 35 packages of Raman, andboxes of Mac and cheese to theboxes of Mac and cheese to theby midnight if you ever want to see you beloved president again." It was at this point that the board noticed that Sam was missing. They thought this was strange, but figured he was just out on a run. Besides, they had more things to think about. They needed to rescue their president! The remaining board members decided to pay the ransom, but to also set a trap so they could catch the kidnapper. They decided to cover the ransom withAdjective glue. This would make the ransom stick to the floor as well as hold the kidnapper in one place. Shortly before midnight, the board set out the ransom. Oddly, Sam had never come back. But again, the board members did not notice, as they were too caught up in their plan. Just after midnight, the kidnapper out and grabbed the food. The glue worked perfectly! The board members out to reveal the kidnapper . To their surprise, the kidnapper was Sam! "I'm sorry. I was just so hungry, I couldn't think of what else to do!" he confessed. The board members forgave him and, after Sam released Hailey from his house, decided that it was time to go to bed. The next day would be filled with telling professors stories about why they had all missed class the day before.
