Eduardo the Hipster

Once upon a, there was a boy, man, naw, boy. His name was Eduardo. He was a Hipster. He liked being and Adjective and all the Proper Noun - Plural would Verb Base Form over him. But he never knew that, since he was way to busy to music to music to notice. Then one day he met and they became best friends. They played in a band together and had lots of fun. In grade they met first Name of a Person and First Name of a Person, who also became best friends with them. Now they were a group of four and they were perfect.
They chilled and laughed and had lots of fun together. Eduardo the hipster, however, didn't really like grade Number or Number. Then in the last semester of grade Number, in math he saw a girl. And she was different. Like different. And summer came and went and he forgot all about her, until his friend joel told him to go to comic with him, and wouldn't you know, she was there. Meanwhile he still did the same things with his friends and they had skype calls every, so And they had sleepover and slumber parties all dressed up in theirAdjective having pillow fights and playing video games and having irl feel threads.
And soon in the second semester of gr. 11, Joel and that girl from math (Emily) and Eduardo the hipster all went to the, and from then on emily was part of the group too, soon after Shelly joined as well and they became a big happy family the end.
