The Raven

Once upon a midnight, while I weak and weary,
Over many a Adjective and curious volume of Noun ,
While I Verb - Past Tense , nearly napping, Adverb there came a tapping,
As of some one gently rapping, rapping at my chamber Noun .
`'Tis some Noun ,' I muttered, `tapping at my chamber Noun -
Only this, and nothing more.'
Open here I Verb - Past Tense the Noun , when, with many a flirt and flutter,
In there stepped a Adjective Animal of the saintly days of yore.
Not the least obeisance made he; not a minute stopped or stayed he;
But, with mien of Noun or Noun , perched above my Location Noun -
Perched upon a Noun of Proper Noun just above my chamber door -
Perched, and Verb - Past Tense , and nothing more.
Then this Adjective Noun beguiling my sad fancy into Verb - Present ends in ING ,
By the grave and stern decorum of the countenance it wore,
`Though thy crest be shorn and shaven, thou,' I, `art sure no craven.
Adverb grim and ancient wandering from the nightly shore - me what thy ______ name is on the Night's ______ shore!'

Quoth the ______, _____.'
