It is very seldom that mere ordinary people like John and _____Adjective secure ancestral halls for the summer.

A colonial mansion, a hereditary estate, I would say a haunted house, and reach the height of romantic _____Noun -- but that would be asking too much of fate!

Still I will proudly declare that there is something queer about it.

Else, why should it be let so _____Verb - 3rd Person Singular Present?

And why have stood so long untenanted?

John laughs at me, of course, but one expects that in marriage.

John is practical in the extreme. He has no patience with faith, an intense horror of superstition, and he scoffs openly at any talk of things not to be felt and seen and put down in figures.

John

is a physician, and perhaps -- (I would not say it to a living soul, of course, but this is dead paper and a great relief to my mind)
-- perhaps that is one reason I do not get well faster.

You see he does not believe I am sick!

And what can one do?

If a physician of high standing, and one's
