Little Jhonny

Little Johnny was sitting in class doing math problems when his teacher picked him to answer a question.

"Johnny, if there were five birds sitting on a Pronoun and you shot one with your gun, how many birds would be left ?"

"None.",replied Johnny. "'cause the rest of the birds would fly away." "Well, the answer is four," said the teacher. "But I like the way you are thinking."

Little Johnny said, "I have a question for you now. If there were three women eating Noun Noun - Plural cones in a shop, one licking her cone, the second Noun her cone, and the third one Noun her cone, which one is married ?

Well," said the teacher neverously, "I guess the one sucking the Proper Noun ?"

"No," said Little Johnny, "the one with the wedding ring on her finger. But I like the way you are thinking
