

sfjhldfh

1. Verb
2. Adverb
3. Noun - Plural
4. Verb - Base Form

sfjhldfh

The Game of Television

On one (adjective) _____ Verb night, Chapman students entered into their usual classroom, ready for Prime Time. However, tonight was a bit different. Professor Gardner was (adjective) and, having just seen The Hunger Games, thought it would be (adjective) to _____ Adverb the students to fight to the death over who gets the best grade. "I don't want to (verb) any of your (adjective) work, so I thought this would be easier," the fed-up (noun) told the class. " _____ Noun - Plural record the (plural noun) on the website." Molly (past verb) and corrected him. "The website is (adjective) , actually, so if you could just email me whether or not you died, that would be super (adjective) ." This was then followed by (number) minutes of various website troubleshooting, during which (percentage) of the class took advantage of fantastic online _____ Verb - Base Form deals. Eventually, all dispute was settled by watching (decade-old TV show) 's making-of doseedentary, and the students went home, feeling (adjective) .