Ski Weekend

It was a Adjective winter weekend, and the Lena family decided to take a ski trip. They packed up their Noun gear, and headed to the Noun - Plural of Maine. They were joined in their Noun by Patti and Mesfin McManamy from Proper Noun and Sean and Maya from Proper Noun, Maine. They stayed in a log cabin house in Rangely, only five minutes from Proper Noun Mountain. During the day, they spent their time skiing, Adverb and Verb Noun and at night, they cooked dinner and played Noun games. For Mesfin, this was his first time skiing. He took a lesson and was a fast learner! The Noun instructor told everyone that Mesfin was a natural skier, but he needed to work on learning how to Verb! Everyone was having a lot of fun. One day as they were Verb - Present Tense, Kathy decided that she wanted a Adjective ski slope. She saw the run, Tight Line, from the Noun, and thought to herself, "I can do that!" So, along with Mark, Sean, and Maya they made the traverse to the run. It was only when she got to the top that she realized that she had made a big Noun. It was a lot Adjective than it looked from the lift. Nonetheless, she tried to side slip down, and get to the bottom carefully. Halfway down the headwall, she slipped and fell. She knew immediately that something was wrong. She felt her knee Verb - Past Tense and then her knee kept Verb - Present Tense under her weight. Although she was scared, she bravely held on until Sean and Maya got the ski patrol. She took a ride down the mountain in a Verb - Past Participle, and the doctors later told her that she had torn Noun - Plural in her knee. It was a scary experience, but after Noun, she made a full recovery and was able to ski the next year!
