Happy Birthday, Skip!

Happy Birthday, Skip!

Remember all the fun we used to have something you used to do with skip?

I can't believe it's been how long have you known Skip since we first met!

I've never told you this, but you remind me of someone or something that reminds you of Skip, and whenever I think of you, song or sound that you associate with Skip is playing in the background.

Had I known your 60th birthday was coming up, I would have arranged a get together with you, me and famous person, famous person so we could something Skip likes to do.

If that didn't work out, I would have just gotten you a gag gift.

If I was able to be there on your birthday, this is what I'd tell you: words of wisdom you'd like to give Skip ADVICE

Since I can't be there, I'll be toasting your big day with a celebratory food drink or custom
