The Laundromat

If you're ever in _____, be sure to stop by the local laundromat. We once spent some _____ time there and it was one of the _____ evenings of all time. There were about _____ washers and _____ dryers. Would you believe it cost _____ dollars to wash one load? That's _____ quarters! The dryers were less expensive, only _____ for 6 minutes, but it took about _____ minutes to get your clothes dry. The dryers had two settings: _____ and _____. But no matter which _____ setting you choose, your clothes come out cold and _____.

Once we got our _____ clothes started in the washer, we went to the _____ store to buy some _____, _____, _____ and _____ for supper. When we got back to the _____ laundromat, we found _____ washers had never started and had stolen our _____ money! We were so _____ that _____ down the washer lid so hard that the machine _____ right up!

If you think that's _____, you should hear what the _____ machine did. It is supposed to take your _____ and change it into _____. _____, it took our _____ dollar bill, and gave us nothing in return. We were fit to be _____!

The whole _____ building was in _____ shape. The glass door was _____ and covered with _____ to hold it together. There was also _____ and _____ lying around here and there. Overall, I'd rate my _____ experience as a _____ on a scale of _____
