Another Day in ILS

Proper Noun

, Steven's ILP, was driving to meet Steven at his apartment for their weekly visit. As _____ Proper Noun approached Steven's street, it was surprisingly blocked by construction. _____
Proper Noun decided to park next to two lovely trees, one block away from Steven's apartment. As _____ Proper Noun left his car, he was attacked by fifteen strong, bald eagles. _____
Proper Noun ran to Steven's apartment and banged on the door in desperation. Steven opened the door and let Justin into his apartment. The bald eagles surrounded Steven's apartment. _____
Proper Noun called Nick to ask for help on how to stop the vicious, beautiful bald eagles. Nick told Justin he needed two water guns, three pencils and a gallon of water to scare the beasts. Steven told _____
Proper Noun he didn't have the items because it wasn't on his weekly shopping list. As the bald eagles were about to tear down the walls of the apartment and attack them, _____
Proper Noun decided to sing SONG at the top of his lungs because he heard bald eagles hate that song. The bald eagles stopped and flew away. Steven turned to _____ Proper Noun and said, "That was awesome. Can you help me with my budget now?"
