Divergent Book Project

What would I say if I could _____<sup>Verb</sup> above the _____<sup>Verb - Present Tense</sup> behind me? We can't act until we know where the other _____<sup>Noun</sup> is. They could be anywhere within a two-mile radius, although I can rule out the _____<sup>Adjective</sup> _____<sup>Noun</sup> as an option. The best way to find them is not to argue about how to search for them, or how many to send out in a search party.

It's to _____<sup>Verb</sup> as high as possible.

I look over my _____<sup>Noun</sup> to make sure no one is watching. None of them look at me, so I _____<sup>Verb</sup> towards the Ferris wheel with _____<sup>Adjective</sup>, _____<sup>Adjective</sup> footsteps, pressing my _____<sup>Noun</sup> to my back with one hand to keep it from making noise.

When I stare up at the Ferris wheel from the _____<sup>Noun</sup>, my throat feels _____<sup>Adjective - Ends in ER</sup>. It is taller than I thought, so tall I can barely see the _____<sup>Noun - Plural</sup> swinging at the top. The only good thing about its height is that it is built to support weight. If I climb it, it won't _____<sup>Verb</sup> beneath me.
