

The Giving Tree

1. Adjective
2. Noun - Plural
3. Adverb
4. Adjective - Ends In Er
5. Noun
6. Noun - Plural
7. Noun
8. Body Of Water
9. Adjective
10. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
11. Emotion

The Giving Tree

Once there was a tree, and everyday she would let a boy eat her

_____ Adjective red apples, swing from her long _____ Noun - Plural, and slide down her strong trunk. The tree was _____ Adverb happy to have the boy with her.

One day, the boy left, only to return much _____ Adjective - Ends in ER. This time though, he didn't want to play with the tree, instead he wanted _____ Noun to buy things and to have fun. The tree didn't have any money, however she did have her delicious _____ Noun - Plural. She let the boy have her apples for him to sell. After the boy took her apples, he was gone for a long time.

The boy came back, more mature looking. He still didn't want to spend time

with the tree. The boy asked for a _____ Noun _____ for his wife and kids. The tree decided to give up her long branches, so the boy could use them to build a house. He took the branches and was gone again for a very long time, and then returned even older. The boy claimed that he was too old to play with the tree. He demanded a boat, so he could go out to _____ Body of Water _____.

The tree sacrificed her sturdy trunk. The tall tree was now a stump.

The boy visited the tree once more. She told the boy that she had nothing left. The boy was fine with that, for all he wanted a _____ Adjective _____ rest. The tree knew that a stump was good for _____ Verb - Present ends in ING _____, so she let him sit and rest.

They were both _____ Emotion _____.

